

iComply: Email Archiving & Compliance for Lotus Notes

Having trouble keeping up with government rules and regulations for email archiving and compliance?

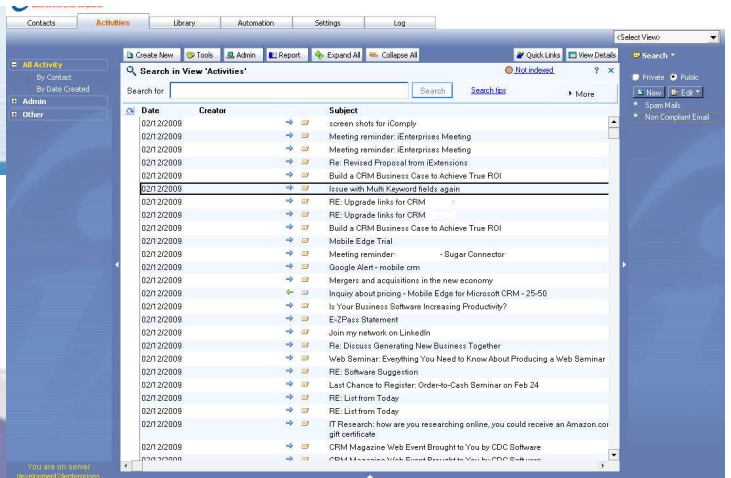

Take control today.

iComply for Lotus Notes and Domino can solve your email archiving problems quickly and easily, offering you a systematic approach to capturing and storing emails, and worry-free compliance. iComply is extremely configurable so you can set up the appropriate rules and policies to archive email correspondence and information between your company and various regulatory agencies. In addition to secure email storage, you gain advanced search and alert capabilities, automatic contact tracking and creation, streamlined attachment support, and automatic email deletion functionality.

With iComply, you are equipped to handle and adhere to the growing number of government regulations so you can minimize legal and financial risk.

iComply was created by iEnterprises, a team of global Lotus Notes experts with more than a decade of experience. iEnterprises is an IBM Premier Business partner.

iComply Product Features

- Email Capture and Storage – iComply automatically captures every email message sent through the Domino mail system and stores it in a secure, feature- rich repository.
- Search and Discovery – The email archive is completely searchable and provides a Boolean search tool as well as a full text search. Searches can an be saved and run again any time you like.
- Alerts – Set up rules and policies that automatically alert you when a non- compliant message is sent or trigger a workflow when messages that need review are sent. This protects you from compliance issues in real time.
- Secure – The entire system is extremely secure and protected by native Domino security. iComply supports the most complex user and group algorithms.
- Attachment Support – Attachments are fully supported, can be stored with or without the accompanying email message, and sent to a searchable attachment repository.
- Available Everywhere – iComply comes with both a Web or Notes- Client interface thus allowing you to use it the way you'd like, or to conform with your organization's preferences.
- Automatic Contact Tracking and Creation – This optional feature allows you to automatically create contact records as messages are sent to iComply. The complete interaction history is available with a single click from the contact record.
- Scalable – iComply uses smart view technology and automatically provides multiple Lotus Notes data stores for messages to ensure scalability.
- Automatic Deletion – iComply has a rules- based mechanism to automatically remove or archive messages once the appropriate time period has passed. The rules- based archiving and removal can be completely configured by you to ensure that information is being kept for the appropriate amount of time.
